SIDNEY KIMMEL THEATER

I am going to see a show at the National Constitution Center.

I am going to see a show and listen to a speaker talk about American History.

ENTRANCE

I have to walk to the back of the lobby to go inside the Sidney Kimmel Theater.

If I need help, I can ask a museum staff member to help me find the theater.

WAITING IN LINE

I might have to wait in line to get into the theater and to get to my seat.

USHERS

The theater usher is a friendly helper.

I will give my ticket to the usher in order to enter the theater.

ENTERING THE THEATER

When I get inside the theater, I can sit anywhere I like to see the show. To get to my seat, I will hold onto the hand rails as I walk on the stairs.

TOP ROW OF SEATS

If I want to stand up and watch the show from a quieter space, I can go to the top row.

I can stand at the doorway of the theater if the sounds are too loud.

I can find a theater usher to help me up to the top row.

VIDEO

During the show, a video is shown on screens that surround the theater.

Images can even appear on the floor and around the top of the room.

BREAK ROOM

If I need to take a break from the show, I can stand outside the doorway of the theater at the top row, go to the break room, or do a calming activity.

CLAPPING

During the show, people will clap when they see something they like.

People clap for a short time.

I can clap too, or I can cover my ears if the clapping noise is too loud.

LEAVING THE THEATER

When the show is over, I will leave the theater.

The aisle and lobby may be crowded when I leave the theater.

I will walk slowly and stay with the person I am with.
